- The Uncertainty Reasoning for the Semantic Web (URSW) workshop series have been co-located with the International Semantic Web Conferences (ISWC) since 2005.
- URSW 2005 was celebrated at Galway, Ireland.
 - Volume 173 of CEUR Workshop Proceedings.
- URSW 2006 was celebrated at Athens, Georgia, USA.
 - Volume 218 of CEUR Workshop Proceedings.
- URSW 2006 included the Use Case Challenge, a workshop-within-a-workshop that resulted in the proposal to the W3C for an Incubator Group on Uncertainty Reasoning for the SW.

- The Uncertainty Reasoning for the World Wide Web Incubator Group (URW3) was created in March 04, 2007.
- Its members held a face-to-face meeting co-located with URSW 2007.
- As a result, a final report was published:
<http://www.w3.org/2005/Incubator/urw3/XGR-urw3/>.
- The final report provides several use cases demonstrating the need of dealing with (different kinds of) uncertainty in SW.

Some open questions

- Should we organize URSW 2011?
- Should URSW 2011 have special sessions as in URSW 2006?
If so, what kind of sessions?
- Does anybody have a use case we could use to compare different uncertainty languages?
- Would you be willing to create/define such a use case?
- Would you be interested in participate in a report comparing the different languages/approaches to URSW?
- What criteria should we use on the comparison?
- Do you have any ideas to create community?
- ...
